LEGISLATION FOR BEER URGED REOPENING OF BANKS STARTS MONDAY

MANY OF NATION'S BANKS OPENED FOR REGULAR BUSINESS INSTITUTIONS IN TWELVE FEDERAL RESERVE CITIES OPENED MONDAY

(By The Associated Press)
Overhauled by the federal government, the nation's banking machinery began functioning without restrictions again today in the country's financial strongholds.
Three hundred and forty-six institutions in the 12 federal reserve cities carried on normal business during the first day of the president's three-day reopening program. Many private banks also started operating and a few others opened under restrictions.
The thousands of other liquid institutions will reopen tomorrow and Wednesday.
Deposits were reported to be exceeding withdrawals in many cases and in no instance was there any difficulty in meeting all demands.
Foreign markets resumed trading on the dollar. The tone was firm.
The New York stock exchange expected to resume trading within the next few days.
In addition to the institutions in the federal reserve cities, banks in Iowa were open under the regulations of the emergency banking law.
Affiliates of Boston banks outside the city proper also reopened. Withdrawal of gold was prohibited and hoarders had four days in which to return their metal to the federal reserve.

NEGRO CHARGED IN DEATH OF NEGRESS ARRESTED SUNDAY FACES CHARGES MURDER, ARSON AND VIOLATION OF PROHIBITION LAWS

E. C. Crawford, 25, negro, charged by complaint with murder, arson and violation of the prohibition laws, was arrested Sunday morning at 2:30 o'clock at Richards, Grimes county, by Sheriff Rufus Pevhouse and Deputy Constable Bud Burleson of Kerens, and was returned to the Navarro county jail at 8 o'clock Sunday morning.
Crawford was named in three complaints in the court of Judge T. A. Crowley, Kerens justice of the peace, Saturday morning as a result of the death of Ollie Ramsey, 52, well known negro in the community, who was killed in the burning of the house of the slain negro, and the finding of a still in an outhouse near the burned building, by officers.
Deputy Constable Burleson and Judge Crowley spent Friday night investigating the circumstances surrounding the burning of the house and the finding of the charred remains of the negro with a fractured skull.
Officers said the accused negro was reported to have left a negro church function early Friday night and about the time he returned to the church, the house was a mass of flames.

Corsicana Banks Are Prepared to Re-Open At Once; Plenty Cash

Both Corsicana banks were ready to open their doors on minutes notice as soon as permission is received from the Secretary of the Treasury to resume their normal banking functions completely officials announced Monday morning. Meanwhile they continued to operate on the restricted basis which has been in effect for the past week.
While no indication had been received by either of the banks as to when they would receive their special license to do business, there was reason to believe that Corsicana would be included in the list of cities permitted to reopen on Tuesday morning. It is known that the Corsicana Clearing House Association appears on the list of such organizations compiled by the Comptroller of Currency, along with 254 other cities in the United States. Treasury officials in Washington refused to say Sunday night that this list would be used in issuing the license.

SUCCESS OF NEW BANKING PLAN UP TO PEOPLE OF U. S.

PRES. ROOSEVELT TELLS NATION OF BRIGHTER OUT-LOOK FOR FINANCES
BY FRANCIS STEPHENSON
(Associated Press Staff Writer.)
WASHINGTON, Mar. 13. (P)—The normal process of money exchange was in order for America today with the assurance of President Roosevelt that "we have provided the machinery to restore our financial system."
"It is up to you to support and make it work," he told the nation as he spoke of the banks which will take care of all needs.
Plenty of currency based on "adequate security" was in the institutions permitted to resume full time operations today in the twelve federal reserve banks, he assured.
"Confidence and courage are the essentials of success in carrying out our plan," the president said. "You people must have faith; you must not be stampeded by rumors or guesses. Let us unite in banishing fear. It is your problem no less than it is mine. Together we cannot fail."
So today, under license of the treasury, banks in the cities where are located the federal reserve financial reservoirs had permission to resume business—provided they continued to guard the gold supplies and took all possible steps to prevent withdrawals by hoarders. Tomorrow in 250 or more additional cities where recognized

Grand Jury Opens Probe of "Devil" Slaying Case

LINDEN, March 13.—(P)—The "devil" slaying of Bernice Clayton, 3-year-old cripple, during strange religious ceremonies in an isolated cabin near Linden was slated for investigation today by the Cass county grand jury. The child died December 19.
Two itinerant preachers and the girl's father, all charged with murder, were called to testify. They were Paul Oakley, 20, self-styled "divine healer," his brother, Coy Oakley, 25, described as Paul's "disciple," and the father, Sherman Clayton, 30.
At his preliminary hearing, Sherman Clayton said he was praying and that he thought Paul Oakley was trying to cure the girl. He said he did not know she was dying. Paul Oakley testified that while his hands were on the child's throat a "devil" told him to choke her.

NEW YORK BANKS QUIETLY RESUMED OPERATION MONDAY

NUMBER OF CUSTOMERS APPEARING NO LARGER THAN ANY ORDINARY MONDAY
NEW YORK, March 13.—(P)—Banking in the nation's financial capital was resumed today when 52 local members of the federal reserve system, quickly resumed business, together with non-member state banks, private banks and metropolitan savings banks.
The last named were ordered by the state banking department to limit withdrawals of $25 weekly for each depositor.
Resumption of trading on the New York stock exchange and various other markets was held up pending more complete banking elsewhere under the stagger system outlined by President Roosevelt.
The list of banks resuming business included all the important Wall Street institutions and private banks, among the latter being J. P. Morgan & Co., Kuhn Loeb & Co., and Dillon, Read & Company.
Reopening of the city's banks proved to be only a routine affair and at the big downtown institutions it appeared to be just another Monday morning. The number of customers appearing at tellers' windows was no larger than usual.

RECONSTRUCTION IS STARTED IN QUAKE STRICKEN DISTRICT

OVER HUNDRED DEAD AND PROPERTY LOSS HUGE;
SHOCKS CONTINUE

LOS ANGELES, Calif., March 13. (P)—Dawn of the third day since the cataclysmic earthquakes of Friday brought another tremor which sent thousands of Southern Californians out of bed at 5:18 o'clock this morning and caused some damage in Long Beach, scene of most destruction.
Telephones in police and newspaper offices rang frequently for the first few moments after the latest disturbance, bringing anxious queries.
There were no further casualties reported, although a short time before the shock the coroner's office here reported the death of the one hundred and ninety-ninth victim, Henry Ufen, 45, of Los Angeles.
Ufen died in the general hospital from injuries received on Friday night when a deluge of bricks from a downtown building here hurled him into the street and beneath the wheels of an automobile. His was the fourth death reported within Los Angeles.
The tremor this morning was felt with varying intensity in all of the devastated areas but was the only report of damage came from Long Beach, where about 53 were killed in the original earthquake.

DALLAS BANKS OPEN FOR UNRESTRICTED BUSINESS MONDAY

OTHER BANKS OF STATE EXPECTED TO FOLLOW ON TUESDAY AND WEDNESDAY

DALLAS, March 13.—(P)—Normal banking functions were resumed quietly and promptly in the Eleventh Federal Reserve district city today as Dallas Banks opened for the first time since March 2.
There were no restrictions except on withdrawals of gold and gold certificates and on withdrawal of cash for hoarding purposes. Tellers and officials said that "cash checks" the first hour were no more than usual on the first banking day after a one-day state of national holiday.
Lobbies were well filled but many persons admitted they were only curiosity seekers. At the First National the lines in front of the receiving window were fully as long as those at the paying cages. In neither case were they extensive.
At least three of the downtown banks opened about 8:30, a half hour earlier than usual, to take care of any one who was anxious to obtain funds as soon as possible.
Altogether, 11 banks in the city swung wide their doors. They included six of the seven downtown banks, their suburban branches and a savings plan institution. All planned to remain

LEADERS OF OIL INDUSTRY SEEKING BETTERMENT PLAN

CONFER IN FORT WORTH WITH VIEW OF PUTTING THEIR HOUSE IN ORDER

FORT WORTH, March 13.—(P)—Nearly 200 of the American Petroleum industry went into conference with presidents and directors of five regional Texas oil associations here today in an effort to work out a program within the existing laws for betterment of the petroleum industry.
B. Ames, president of the American Petroleum Institute, one of the visitors, declared that the present situation in the oil industry was critical and admitted that, perhaps, ground had been lost. He said that he felt, however, that the members of the industry could do much within the law to put their house in order by an example of abiding

ATTEMPT TO SEND ECONOMY BILL TO COMMITTEE FAILS

FOES ADMINISTRATION PROGRAM GIVEN SEVERE SETBACK IN SENATE MONDAY

WASHINGTON, March 13.—(P)—The senate today tabled motion by Senator McCarran (D., Nev.), to refer the Roosevelt economy program to the judiciary committee.
Failure of the attempt to send the bill to committee represented a severe setback for foes of the legislation. Its advocates immediately expressed more confidence that the drastic authority requested by President Roosevelt over the payrolls and federal costs would be granted within the next several days, the house having already voted in favor.
After a Republican conference, Senator McNary—the party leader—said no effort was made to bind the president to save $400,000,000 in federal expenses.
Some Republicans favored changing the bill to limit the cuts to veterans to 15, 20 or 33 1-3 per cent, and it was indicated Senator Dickinson (R., Iowa), would propose an amendment with the 15 per cent limit instead of the discretionary power.
The senate vote on tabling the resolution to send the bill to committee, which constituted the first test of senate sentiment, was 60 to 20.
Republicans Favor Plan.
WASHINGTON, March 13.—(P)—Senator McNary of Oregon, the Republican leader, said after a party conference today that a "substantial majority" of those attending would support President

Great Britain Removes Embargo Arms in Far East

LONDON, March 13.—(P)—Great Britain has decided to remove its embargo on the shipment of arms to China and Japan, Stanley Baldwin informed parliament today.
He explained that the embargo announced last month was of a provisional nature, pending an opportunity for international consultation.
"Since then," he said, "the prime minister and the foreign secretary have had an opportunity to discuss the matter with representatives of various other countries, and they have now informed us that in their opinion there is no prospect for any international agreement on the subject in the near future."
"Under these circumstances no useful purpose would be served by maintaining an embargo observed by that country alone."

BINGHAM IS NAMED AMBASSADOR GREAT BRITAIN ON MONDAY

JOSEPHUS DANIELS NAMED AS REPRESENTATIVE TO MEXICO; OTHERS FILED

WASHINGTON, March 13.—(P)—President Roosevelt today sent the nomination of Robert W. Bingham, Louisville publisher, to be ambassador to Great Britain to the senate.
Mr. Roosevelt also filled the important diplomatic post at Paris with Messrs. Aldor Straus, of New York, and at Mexico City with Josephus Daniels of North Carolina.
He also renamed Eugene O. Sykes of Mississippi, for reappointment to the Federal Radio Commission.

HEAD CATHOLIC CHURCH

VATICAN CITY, March 13.—(P)—Christian civilization is threatened by "a war on human society" on religion and on God Himself, the pope told the cardinal's consistory today.

The pontiff promised that he would daily pray that God "confer upon the conferences and conversations that will take place precisely during this Holy Year for world economic readjustment, for disarmament—may it be effective

PRESIDENT SPRUNG SURPRISE MONDAY MESSAGE CONGRESS

URGES MODIFICATION VOL-STEAD LAW AND ENACTMENT BEER LEGISLATION

WASHINGTON, Mar. 13. (P)—In a surprise message of two sentences, President Roosevelt asked congress today to enact beer legislation immediately.
Democratic leaders of both senate and house let him know at once that they would follow his recommendation.
Vice President Garner referred it to the Senate finance committee.
Speaker Rainey turned it over to the house ways and means committee.
The prospect was that within a few days both branches would approve the legislation and put taxes on the beverage aimed to bring $150,000,000 a year toward balancing the budget.
Called it the white house "the briefest Presidential message in history," Mr. Roosevelt's seventy-two words were:
"I recommend to the congress the passage of legislation for the immediate modification of the Volstead Act, in order to legalize the manufacture and sale of beer and other beverages of such alcoholic content as is permissible under the constitution; and to provide through such manufacture and sale, by substantial revenue for the support of the government."
"I deem action at this time to be of the highest importance." The Democratic leadership and anti-prohibitionists expressed confidence the votes to pass the bill without ado were to be had.
"I hope it may be disposed of as promptly as may be found practicable," Senator Robinson of Arkansas, the Democratic leader

NEGRO ARRESTED

Holloway of Kerens came to Corsicana Saturday morning and Sheriff Pevehouse and Burleson went to Richards late Saturday afternoon, while deputy sheriffs and Constable Holloway conducted a search in Corsicana and Kerens.

Constable Holloway said there was considerable feeling against the accused negro, following the slaying of the negro. The trouble occurred about four miles south of Rural Shade.

Negro Dones Two Charges.
Crawford made a detailed statement to Chris L. Knox, and other officials Sunday, denying any connection with the burning of the house or the slaying of the negro, his (Crawford's) mother-in-law. He is said to have admitted operating a still there and selling liquor.

The statement said that Crawford had not returned to his home from the church function until the burning house was seen, and that he left hurriedly from the scene after he had been accused by some of the negro neighbors as being responsible for the slaying of his mother-in-law, proceeding to Kerens and Corsicana and then catching a freight train to his father's home in Richards.

Crawford admitted in his statement, it was reported, that Olla Ramsey, the mother-in-law, objected to the making of liquor on the premises.

Mr. Knox said the case would probably be presented to the Navarro county grand jury Tuesday.

The accused negro was fingerprinted at the city hall Monday morning by Jack Morgenthaler, desk sergeant and fingerprint expert of the police department.

CORN PLANTING IS REPORTED IN MANY SECTIONS OF COUNTY

Residents from various sections of the county in Corsicana Monday reported that corn planting began in earnest Monday morning, although in many instances the soil is still too wet.

The high winds of the past two days has dried out the land considerably, and some farmers fear that stands of corn may not be secured as the ground will dry quickly when plowed too wet.

With the planting of the corn in wet soil, a stand may not be secured unless another rain falls within a few days.

Trees and other vegetation have budded and leaved at a remarkably fast rate during the week end of warm weather.

Farming operations and road work will be in full swing for the entire week unless additional rains or cold weather is encountered.

Lands will be prepared for cotton planting within the next few days.

materially and morally—and for war debts." He invited every one to pray with him.

Russia, Mexico and Spain and all countries in Central Europe "show only too clearly what may and must be feared wherever their nefarious propaganda influence penetrate—and where they do not penetrate," he said.

Seated on a crimson-gold throne chair under a rich velvet canopy in the beautiful consistory hall, the pope solemnly said his voice has been "alone in indicating a radical cure and remedy, namely, sound and solid principles, charity and justice and fundamental in-destructible truths and teachings of the value of soul and the dignity of the human individual, man's origin and destiny and his essential relations with God, his creator and redeemer and lord and judge, and with his fellowmen in the rest of creation."

Enumerating, according to his custom, the joys and sorrows since the last consistory, His Holiness mentioned among the sorrows "the most painful surprise he could not help feeling at the baptism of a royal infant administered by a non-Catholic minister."

He referred to the orthodox baptism of Princess Marie Louise, the daughter born in January to King Boris and Queen Joanna of Bulgaria.

Another sorrow, the pope said, was "Protestant proselytism, at one time cautious and cunning, at another time unabashed and provocative, that is freshly and impudently pursued in all Italy, the proper territory of our primate dignity and in Rome itself, our city and episcopal see."

Lawson Coulson was born and reared in Corsicana, attending the local schools and for years was a leader in civic, social, business and church circles of his home town.

He entered the drug business with his brother, Tom Coulson, pioneer Corsicana druggist, now of Dallas, and later succeeded him in the business as proprietor. He conducted this business here for years and it was among the leading businesses of its kind in this section of the state, his place of business being a very popular one.

He recently retired from business here.

Mr. Coulson was of courteous and pleasing personality and made many friends during his years of residence here and he retained them easily by the same friendly and kindly nature with which he gained them. He was ever optimistic and had a cheering word for all with whom he came in contact. He will be missed and grieved for by a host of friends in Corsicana and elsewhere.

Death and Destruction Left in Wake of Heavy Temblors Late Friday

LOS ANGELES, March 11.—(AP)—The unofficial death toll in the earthquake which shook Southern California yesterday and today went up to 140 this morning as additional bodies were found. About 2,000 were estimated to have been injured and the damage was placed by relief agencies at approximately $35,000,000.

Long Beach on the coast near Los Angeles, was the hardest hit. The dead there totaled 74 and D. W. Pontius, member of the governor's emergency relief committee, said the property damage would amount to $25,000,000 in that city alone. Compton and Huntington Park suffered heavily. Compton reported eighteen dead and Huntington Park sixteen with extensive damage to buildings.

The work of digging into the wreckage of buildings, homes and apartments was going steadily forward and there were indications additional bodies will be recovered.

Swiftly the available relief and reconstruction agencies mobilized to aid the suffering. Anticipating help from the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, workers were busy administering to the stricken and preparing to repair or rebuild property.

County Counsel Edward W. Mattoon said he believed some of the $4,186,854 advanced March 3 by the R. F. C. to California could be diverted quickly for relief.

Gov. James Rolph, Jr., arriving here by airplane from Sacramento conferred immediately with an emergency relief committee.

Relieve Suffering. Engineers, chamber of commerce organizations, national, state and local health services and the entire set up of the county employment stabilization bureau, functioning with R. F. C. funds, threw their entire force into the task of relieving suffering.

San Bernardino Valley, where first reports indicated considerable damage, suffered only one casualty, Mrs. F. G. Scott, Colton falling to the floor and breaking her arm.

The historic old county court house in Los Angeles, in which many departments were housed, was badly cracked and officials condemned it today. The departments were ordered to move out.

The damage in Los Angeles was confined to older buildings. Many plate glass windows were smashed and bricks fell from parapets of older buildings. The strain of the shocks caused cracks in many other structures.

City Hall Locked. The downtown Los Angeles skyscraper city hall was locked by order of Mayor John C. Porter with the explanation it was to prevent large crowds from gaining access to the health services on walls of the big structure were cracked in many places. Mayor Porter said the action was not taken because the building might be damaged by further shocks.

Architects said the 27-story structure, designed as earthquake-proof, apparently had passed the acid test.

After receiving information on the availability of relief money Gov. Rolph, accompanied by A. A. Brock, state director of agriculture, Assemblyman James Boyle, A. S. Schaefer of San Francisco, Pacific Coast manager of the Red Cross, D. D. MacWaters of the Los Angeles Red Cross, Dr. C. U. Duckworth, assistant state director of agriculture, and others began an inspection of the stricken area.

Santa Ana officials estimated the damage there at $500,000 and $1,000,000. The schools were ordered closed pending examination of the buildings.

LOS ANGELES, March 11.—(AP)—Light earth shocks continued in Southern California today in the wake of a terrifying quake which last night caused the death of at least 132 persons and injured 4,000, and untold millions of dollars property damage.

There had been 23 distinct shocks but they generally were of diminishing intensity. Most of the death and destruction was confined to the violent initial shock which, accompanied by a peculiar roar, rocked the section at 5:55 p. m. yesterday shaking buildings walls down and starting fires.

Some of this morning's shocks jarred more debris loose from buildings in the virtually wrecked business section of Long Beach, 20 miles south of here, which seemed to be the epicenter of these quakes.

Sixty-five Dead Long Beach. At least 65 persons were killed at Long Beach and 1,000 injured.

Dr. Charles F. Richter of the Carnegie Institution Seismological Laboratory at Pasadena expressed an opinion that the worst of the shocks were over, pointing to scientific records of hundreds of quakes, which are followed by milder after-shocks coming like echoes.

With business buildings practically uninhabitable, Long Beach was the scene of vast emergency relief work today, and a threatened food shortage was averted. Hundreds of persons were temporarily homeless.

Compton had the largest number of dead with 13.

Only five persons were killed in Los Angeles, but the injury list was about 2,000.

Relief Work Opens. Agencies for relief and reconstruction mobilized swiftly today throughout the stricken area.

Governor James Rolph, Jr., came by airplane from Sacramento to take personal charge of work started during the night by local members of the state emergency council.

Navy, marine corps and regular army detachments aided local civil officers in assuring security of property from possible looting and vandalism.

The California national guard patrolled Santa Ana and Anaheim today, this precaution being taken primarily to prevent looting of business houses damaged by the earthquakes.

At Garden Grove, a section severely affected, the damage running him, the American Legion was placed in charge and the town was closed to all visitors. The same precaution was taken at Buena Park.

Four Killed at Grade Crossing Near Overton

OVERTON, March 11.—(AP)—A switch engine crashed into a stalled truck at a grade crossing near Overton, killed four occupants of the truck and critically injured another.

The dead were Fred Russell, 22, dairyman; his wife, 30, and two of their children, Willie Merl, 6, and Oscar Earl, 1.

Nella Jean Russell, 3, was injured badly about the head, but physicians at an Overton hospital said she probably would recover.

All five were in the front seat of the truck yesterday when the engine, backing out of Overton, hit it. The four died, their lives were hurled from the wreckage.

Russell had just driven the truck up a rather steep approach to the crossing when it stalled.

The Russell family was returning home from a neighboring farmer's where they had traded for a cow and calf. The calf was in the back end of the truck. It escaped injury.

The neighbors had led the cow across the tracks ahead of the truck.

and the celebrities marched back to their homes.

During the remainder of the meeting, several other shocks occurred, but as one put it, "we never noticed them after the commotion about what to do about this salary thing."

Among those present were Clark Gable, Wallace Beery, Conrad Nagel, William Grant, David Manners, Frances Grant, David Oakes, Frederic March, Richard Barthelmess, Ned Sparks, Hedda Hopper, Charles Colbert, Walter Houston, Charles Dickson, Lewis Stone, Robert Emmett O'Connor, Kenneth Thomson, Elizabeth Patterson, Blanche Frederici and George Chandler.

News Received Here
As First Shock Hits

News of the earthquake in Los Angeles and vicinity Friday night was received in Corsicana in the same minute in which the disaster occurred over the leased wires of the Associated Press in the city.

The first news came in a "flash" and was timed at 7:55 central standard time, while the quake shook Los Angeles at the same moment. Several spectators watched the automatic machines dispense of the news of the tragedy as it was revealed by telephonic reports of newspapermen in the field to the Associated Press Bureau.

Latest information on the disaster was posted on the doors of the Sun offices Saturday and attracted large groups of interested readers, many of them scanning the death list in search of friends or relatives.

RED CROSS EMERGENCY
UNITS BECAME ACTIVE WITH
NEWS OF DISASTER

WASHINGTON, March 11.—(AP)—President Roosevelt early today sought the latest information concerning the seriousness of the California earthquake before turning to other matters.

Already, however, every facility of the government had been offered California officials to aid in relieving distress in the stricken areas. There was little more that the president could do.

Chairman John Barton Payne of the National Red Cross wired Governor Rolph of California, offering the services of the Red Cross to take charge of earthquake relief.

Payne sent a summary of early reports from Red Cross personnel to the governor. This report related how A. L. Schaefer, manager of the Pacific Coast area with headquarters in San Francisco, and J. W. Richardson, district director of the Red Cross, had flown to Los Angeles area on the midnight plane from San Francisco to begin relief work.

At about the same time the federal government announced that it authorized California banks to advance cash needed by victims of the quake and that if additional assistance was needed it would be provided.

It added that other regulations by the federal reserve board provided federal reserve banks could make direct loans to individuals, or corporations.

In the Red Cross report to the governor, Schaefer notified him that it had widely organized chapters in the area with a large personnel of paid and volunteer workers.

Payne announced later he was sending Dr. William Dr. Klein, medical assistant to the vice chairman and a disaster expert.

Meanwhile, President Roosevelt was informed that the army and navy were already co-operating and that a satisfactory arrangement had been worked out by the Red Cross forces in the affected area.

Admiral Richard Leigh, commander in chief of the United States fleet, reported to the navy that there had been no casualties or damage among the navy personnel on the Coast except one enlisted man reported killed in San Pedro.

This was apparently J. W. Murray, a fireman on the cruiser, Marblehead, killed by falling walls at San Pedro. The navy has among its personnel a John Wesley Murray, who enlisted in July, 1931, at Raleigh, N. C.

Another message from Admiral Leigh said:

"Information from the commander ashore indicates situation amply covered. Shocks continue in Long Beach district but no further damage. Buildings slightly damaged, walls fallen, windows and doors out. Streets are clear, wires removed, water supply amply maintained. No serious problem, but organization ready. Wonderful spirit of co-operation and volunteer help evident everywhere."

Many Prove Be Heroes
LOS ANGELES, March 11.—(AP)—When death and disaster struck Southern California many were given a chance to be heroes.

The story of Forrest Brinkerhoff, young switchboard operator at Dominguez sub-station of the Pacific Electric Railway, is just one of the many.

When the first shock came, he stood at his post to throw the switch that would save the lives of many at the cost of his own life.

Searchers early today found his body in the ruins of the building, crushed by huge pieces of masonry.

LETTER THREATENED LIFE OF PROMINENT NAVARRO COUNTY MAN

EXTORTION PLOT FAILS; NEGRO IS SHOT BY DEPUTY SHERIFF

Yeo James, negro, 25, is in the P. and S. Hospital suffering gunshot wounds in the right arm and side as a result of what officers report was an attempt to extort $500 from W. H. Moore, wealthy land-owner and banker, of the Emmet community, 25 miles west of Corsicana, Friday night.

The negro was shot with a shotgun by Deputy Sheriff H. M. Westbrook Friday night when the negro is alleged to have approached the mail box at the farm of Moore where a dummy package had been placed as directions demanded in the letter sent to Moore through the mails.

Moore received the letter demanding that $500 be left in his mail box not later than 7:30 o'clock Friday night and stating that if the demands were not met, Moore's stock would be shot.

The negro ran when accosted by Westbrook, Sheriff Pevchevsky reported, and Westbrook opened fire with a shotgun. The accused black was brought to the county jail, and later was transferred to the hospital upon the advice of physicians. Hospital attaches said Saturday morning a considerable loss of blood was noted, but that it was expected the negro would recover unless unforeseen complications are encountered.

The negro made a statement of the affair late Friday night to Cleo G. Miller, criminal district attorney, admitting he sent the letter to Moore mailing it at Frost, Wednesday. He gave as his reason that he needed money.

Officers said Moore had said notes to a bank against the farm of Wm. James, father of the defendant, and a foreclosure had resulted.

To File Charges.
Criminal District Attorney Miller announced Saturday that a formal complaint for alleged attempt to extort was filed in justice court against James today, and an examining trial is scheduled to be held before Judge Sam B. Jordan as soon as possible.

METHODIST HOLD
DISTRICT MEETING
ADOPT RESOLUTIONS

The regular monthly pastors' conference of the Corsicana district of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, met at the First Methodist church in Corsicana at 10 a. m. March 9, 1938, with the following present: Dr. J. S. Parker, presiding elder; Bruce M. Cox, P. L. Shuler, R. H. Heizer, A. E. Turner, R. T. Capps, J. W. Bergin, J. F. Adams, A. K. Marney, F. O. Waddill, I. R. Darwood, A. C. Haynes, H. W. Smith, H. Bowman, J. H. Baldridge, C. F. Ezell, W. W. Moss, Horace Poteet, and T. S. Ozle. Four of the pastors, B. L. McCord, R. H. Davenport, B. E. Kinchrow, and R. F. James, were absent.

Among other items of business transacted, the conference unanimously adopted resolutions setting forth its evaluation of the Eighteenth amendment to the national constitution and its position relative to the proposed repeal of the same.

The following is a resume of the resolutions adopted:

"That the adoption of the Eighteenth amendment was the greatest forward step in moral progress since the passage of the constitution amendment to the constitution forbidding human slavery; that the Eighteenth amendment though bitterly and at times unscrupulously assailed by its foes, and in many instances poorly enforced, has resulted in great good to the American people; that this conference is unalterably opposed to its repeal, or the weakening of its enforcing laws; that instead of its repeal we stand for its retention and proper enforcement; that this conference heartily commends the bishops of our church in that all of them have taken a definite and aggressive stand against repeal."

The above action was taken that the citizenship in general may definitely know the position of the pastors, individually and collectively, on the question of the repeal of the Eighteenth amendment to the national constitution.

MEASURE EXPECTED MEET OPPOSITION IN SENATE NEXT WEEK

EARLIER IN DAY HOUSE DEMOCRATS HAD REFUSED CAUCUS BINDING

WASHINGTON, Mar. 11.—(P)—The house rallied behind President Roosevelt this afternoon to pass his drastic economy bill.

Republican support more than made up for democratic defections on the legislation empowering the President to slash half a billion off federal spending on account of veterans and payrolls.

The roll-call of the house showed 266 in favor and 133 against the bill.

The senate prospect is doubtful, however, in view of apparently increasing opposition. The senate finance committee approved the bill today, but attempts to get agreement to begin consideration on Monday failed.

Veterans and labor organizations are promoting the opposition.

The house vote followed immediately on the heels of pleas to pass the bill from the floor leaders of both parties.

Byrnes of Tennessee for the democrats and Snell of New York for the republicans.

The outcome appeared certain even before the roll call was half over, although earlier the house democrats had fallen short by 14 votes in a caucus attempt to block the bill.

The attitude of Byrnes was a last minute factor, he having earlier refused to sponsor the legislation, leaving that to McDuffie (D. Ala.).

"I am willing to surrender any differences I have," he said.

"I appeal to the democrats to support."

The decision followed two hours of sharp debate in which both parties split.

The stormy fight centered on the proposals to reduce veterans' expenditures. The proponents demanded that the power be given the President to effect economies that would balance the budget.

In his vetoing of the bill, Mr. Roosevelt said there was prospect of getting a balanced budget within a year, if he was accorded the extraordinary powers asked.

WASHINGTON, March 11.—(P)—The Roosevelt economy program collided with the senate today that made delay certain and defeat a distinct possibility.

Beaten in their own caucus, democratic leaders sought to rush the bill through the house and appeared to have fair chance for success, in view of republican support. But the bill, empowering the president to cut half a billion off federal payrolls and costs, had to be shoved over into next week by senate leaders.

The finance committee there approved it, in the face of opposition from the democrats.

Representative McDuffie (D. Ala.), taking the sponsorship after the new leader, Byrnes, had refused to do so, portrayed the government's fiscal situation as a dangerous one, pointing out that treasury interest on short term notes had to be raised to four and a quarter in the past ninety days.

Opposing the bill, Representative Boleau (R. Wis.) argued that the government should use its responsibilities "to any man, we should let the veterans express their views before taking action."

In the senate, Chairman McNamara (D., Nev.) objected.

Senate consideration may be delayed until next week, Rep. Patman (D., Tex.), said beneficiaries of the bill would be "the banking racketeers who are ruining this country" and he named several banks.

McKelton, Ogden Mills, Eugene Meyer and Charles E. Mitchell, former chairman of the National City Bank.

Representative Tamm (D., Tex.) said the bill would have been here twenty years. During every emergency I have upheld the president.

"The question today is not my program or your program, but it is the program of the president to whom every person in the country is looking. They are looking to congress to give the power."

"I am going to send word to the country, looking to this man, that we have refused to give him instrumentalities with which to restore this nation's credit."

"During my service here, I have found that those members who submerge their own wills to those of the leaders of the nation are the ones who survive."

WASHINGTON, March 11.—(P)—The Roosevelt economy bill hit a stormy road in the house today, with the democratic ranks on the loose for fear of a caucus binding.

In caucus, the democrats fell short by fourteen votes of binding their great majority to support the president. The leadership was able to get the bill up as soon as the house met, however, by a voice vote that drowned its opponents.

Thus, with support evident on the republican side, there was no apparent diminution of confidence among those close to President Roosevelt that he would get the extensive power requested over veterans and federal payroll expenditures.

In his special message yesterday, he asked it to enable a half billion cut in federal expenses to make a balanced budget possible in the next year.

The democratic caucus vote was 174 to 108 in favor of being bound, but 188 were required to put it over.

Although defeated in their caucus efforts to bind the membership for the program in secret caucus, the democratic leaders went ahead.

ROOSEVELT

clearing house associations exist, the normal business of banking will be continued and beginning Wednesday the process will be extended to other communities.

To Stop Failures Epidemic

Answering the question he conceded to be on many lips, Mr. Roosevelt said the reason for the gradual reopening of the banks was that the government does not intend that the history of the past few years shall be repeated—we do not want and will not have another epidemic of bank failures.

"This bank holiday," he explained, "while resulting in many cases in great inconvenience to supplying the currency necessary to meet the situation. No sound bank is a dollar worse off than it was when it closed its doors last Monday. Neither is any bank which may open out not to be in a position for immediate opening."

"The new law allows the twelve federal reserve banks to issue additional currency on good assets and thus the banks which re-open will be able to meet every legitimate call. The new currency is being sent out by the bureau of engraving and printing in large quantities to every part of the country. It is sound currency because it is backed by actual good assets."

May Get Cash More Readily

"Remember that the essential accomplishment of this legislation is that it makes it possible for banks more readily to convert their assets into cash than was the case before. More liberal provisions are being made for issuing currency on the security of these good assets. This currency is not fiat currency. It is issued only on adequate security—and every good bank has an abundance of such security."

With confidence restored, the president is going to see to it that the "unfashionable pastime" of hoarding is banished.

Regulations were issued last night by the treasury permitting it to keep very close account of withdrawals of unusual proportions.

"It is possible," he said, "that when the banks resume a very few people who have not recovered from their fear may again be given to hoarding. I am sure that the banks will take care of all needs—and it is my belief that hoarding during the past week has become an exceedingly unfashionable pastime."

By Press and Radio

Taking time out of his busy schedule, the president made the first time since entering the white house a week ago, Mr. Roosevelt sent his message of confidence to the nation last night by press and radio.

Speaking from the second floor of the executive mansion.

While permitting a progressive program of bank reopenings, the president also asked that the federal gold supply be assured full backing of all transactions.

Also, he is going to see to it that every bank which does reopen is an institution that is sound and solvent.

"I do not promise you," he told the people, "that every bank will be reopened or that individual losses will not be suffered, but there will be no losses that possibly could be avoided; and there would have been more and greater losses had we continued to drift."

Will Create Sound Banks

"I can even promise you salvation for some at least of the sorely pressed banks. We shall be engaged in making a list of banks which are sound and solvent and in the creation of sound banks through reorganization."

Referring to the appeals from some for aid to the state banks, the president said that "there is no occasion for that worry."

"These banks can and will receive assistance from the Reconstruction Finance corporation. These state banks are following the same course as the national banks except that they are not members of the federal reserve system."

On the senate side, the finance committee heard the bill wheedled right to the top of the legislative and American Federation of Labor and other organizations.

John Thomas Taylor, chairman of the Legion's legislative committee, said the bill is not the time to be stamped.

He asked for delay, saying congress should retain its authority over veterans' laws; and "the Legion will continue to work for legislation for elimination of injustices in veterans' laws."

As debate opened in the house, copies of the report of the special emergency committee to the president were distributed.

Representative McDuffie (D., Ala.)—were distributed among the membership.

"There is no time to raise theoretical and academic questions," McDuffie said.

"This is the time for action, the president has asked for it."

Tension was evident, particularly on the democratic side.

Several republican leaders said they probably could furnish enough votes to help the democratic leadership to pass the measure.

Unemployed Message Postponed

WASHINGTON, March 11.—(P)—President Roosevelt today decided to withhold "indefinitely" his special message recommending a half billion cut in federal expenditures on unemployed men into camps.

Authoritative quarter felt that Mr. Roosevelt desired to wait until the congressional session cleared from his yesterday's message, requesting authority to slash $500,000,000 or more from federal expenditures.

Republicans to Support

WASHINGTON, March 11.—(P)—Representative Luce, chairman of the conference of house republicans said today after a meeting of his party's steering committee that "the general sentiment was to support President Roosevelt's economy bill."

same schedule as the national banks.

I am confident that the state banking departments will be as careful as the national government in the policy relating to the opening of banks and will follow the same broad policy."

Had Bank Situation

In his review of the causes leading up to the national bank holiday, the president took occasion to score some bankers.

"We had a bad banking situation," he said. "Some of our bankers had shown themselves either incompetent or dishonest in their handling of the people's funds. They had used the money entrusted to them in speculations and unwise loans. This was, of course, not true of the vast majority of our banks."

Enough of them to shock the people for a time into a sense of insecurity and to put them into a frame of mind where they did not differ in their opinion as to the fact that the acts of a comparatively few had tainted them all.

"It was the government's job to straighten out this situation and do it quickly as possible—and the job is being performed."

Evidence of Support

WASHINGTON, March 13.—(P)—Heaps of mail and telegrams and numerous telephone calls bore evidence to the White House today of the support President Roosevelt is receiving from the public in the banking emergency.

From every part of the country came suggestions for restoration of confidence.

State officials, business men, bankers and the plain citizen have sent thousands of telegrams to the president asking what they can do to help. More than a dozen have written letters, offering to take their few pieces of gold, treasured as souvenirs, back to the banks.

Others suggested that local committees be organized in each community to explain the bank situation and build up confidence so that widespread runs would not be repeated.

The president, however, was represented as believing that the emergency did not call for such measures.

A large per cent of the business in the interim had been carried on by check and the load taxed the individual banks.

SUPERFLUOUS HAIR

Ugly, superfluous hairs are not necessary. You must make the very best of your looks these days, for competition is high, and every woman is becoming a beauty expert. Why allow even the least bit of your good looks to be marred by hairs that grow where they are not wanted? And even if you can make no claim to beauty, you can still avoid one ugliness. The homely but perfectly groomed woman is often more attractive than the careless beauty. Anyhow, remember, and try out these suggestions.

Allowable For East Texas Is Given Big Hike

AUSTIN, March 10.—(P)—The East Texas oil field's production allowable has been raised to 400,000 barrels daily, an increase of 110,000 barrels over the maximum output of 290,000 barrels permitted the past few months. The state railroad commission, regulator of oil and gas fields, made the new allowable effective today. Until the proper data to allocate the per well contribution to the field maximum can be obtained, the field will be permitted to produce at the rate of 36 barrels per well daily. There were 9,820 wells in the field.

The commission set March 13 as the deadline for applying the formula based on one-third of the output to the well, one-third to bottom hole pressure and one-third to thickness of the sand. The per well daily production range of from 30.8 barrels to 38.8 barrels.

ABILENE, March 10.—(P)—Protest of oil producers in this section against drastic price cuts on crude, recently announced by the Shell and Humble companies, apparently is taking direct action from Jones county. It was reported here today that wholesale shutdown of production would start at 7 a.m. tomorrow and about 175 wells, or virtually 100 per cent would be affected.

KILGORE, March 10.—(P)—Fourteen new injunctions, restraining operators from producing oil in excess of the railroad commission allowable, were granted in Travis county district court yesterday. Defendants named were: Como Oil corporation, E. J. Moran, Alton Thrash, Boone Oil company, Texas State Oil company, Grady Vaughn, Faustine Dotson, Arrow Refining company, Coastal Drilling company, R. W. Wilt, Cullen Oil company, Cain Production company, Barnsdale Oil company and the Overton Refining company.

NAVARRO, CORBET, UNION HIGH AND STATE HOME REMAIN DALLAS SHOE SHOP GIRLS BE ADDED ATTRACTION HERE MONDAY NIGHT

Navarro, Corbet, Union High, and State Home remain their quarter-final games in the 1933 Navarro County girls' basketball tournament Saturday afternoon and are paired off for the semi-final and final games on the Y. M. C. A. court Monday afternoon and night. Something new in the way of girls' basketball will be on tap for Corsicana sport fans, when the famous Dallas Shoe Shop girls' team, coached by Danny Lynch, will play an exhibition game with four picked players of the county at 7 o'clock Monday night.

Semi-final pairings: Navarro vs. Corbet, 4 p. m., and Union High vs. State Home 5 p. m. The winners of the quarter-finals will meet at 8 o'clock to settle the championship of the county. The consolation game will be disposed of, and the added attraction of the exhibition game will be substituted.

In Saturday afternoon's games, Mildred defeated Frost 18-16 in the closest game of the tournament to date, necessitating an extra three minute period. Navarro had practically no difficulty in disposing of Mt. Nebo 27-13, and Bazzette gave Corbet no opposition, dropping a 27-17 decision. Dawson gave Union High a run for their money before dropping a 15-13 decision in favor of Union High. And then in the last game Saturday afternoon, State Home proved too strong an opponent for Mildred, and won by a 27-7 count.

The tournament opened last Saturday with 25 teams on the list, and during that day and night, 13 of them were disposed of. Yesterday eight of the remaining twelve teams hit the dust, leaving the county title to be decided by the four teams still unscathed.

According to the way the teams have been playing, taking into consideration the relative strength and weakness of their opposition, Navarro and Union High are favored to go to the finals, and Union High might have a slight edge over Navarro to win the final struggle.

To advance to the semi-finals Navarro upset Bryson, and Mt. Nebo, three strong teams; Corbet got into the semi-finals as a result of their defeating Richmond, and Bazzette, neither of whom having any previous tournament experience. Union High, rated before the tournament to be the team to be reckoned with because of the title was decided, slugged their way through a 27-13 decision from Dawson, a team had an unquestionably powerful rating. State Home to participate in the semi-final game, defeated Corbet, I. O. O. F., and Mildred.

The Dallas Shoe Shop girls, coached by Danny Lynch, referee the tournament, will introduce the playing of division court basketball in Corsicana and Navarro, when they play an exhibition game with four picked teams that have been eliminated earlier in the tournament. Each team will play the visiting teams one quarter each, under the rules of the two-division playing. The teams likely to play will be Bryson, Emhouse, Frost and Dawson, most of which have strong offenses.

This game should draw a good crowd, both from the towns providing the teams, and also from Corsicana, as it will be the first time two-division court basketball has been seen here. It is said that it will not be difficult for teams to change over to the new method, and when they learn the rules, and in a few minutes

PREPARATIONS FOR TRACK, FIELD AND LITERARY MEET

Preparations for the district track, field and literary meet in Hillsboro, April 14-15 were begun at the Corsicana high school this week, with the directors of various literary and athletic events calling for recruits, and beginning intensive training. It was announced at the high school this morning by Principal O. P. Douglas, who is director general of the high school city-county unit.

J. F. Gardner had a meeting of tennis singles and doubles boys and girls aspirants last Wednesday night, and the athletic events for the teams. Training for the track and field team aspirants has also started under the supervision of John Hanna, assistant football coach.

Other teachers who are directors in the city-county unit, and who have been working with their team material include Miss Manette Wilson, declamation; Miss Annie Maud Shaw, spelling; Miss Eloise Golden, essay writing; Miss Corinne McClure, arithmetic; Miss Virginia Carter, art memory; and Miss Lena Mae McClure, music memory.

The high school has organized itself into a city-county unit, and will eliminate among its own student body for representatives to send to the district meet, and will not enter the Navarro county meet. By doing this the school is exercising the use of an option granted schools of such size by the interscholastic league.

Spring Football Has Been Started Mildred

Spring football training has been started at Mildred high school under the direction of Tommie C. Younger, coach. Twenty-two boys, eligible for the 1933 grid season are reporting for spring football sessions, Coach Younger stated Saturday morning.

Football was sponsored in the Mildred school for the first time during the 1932 season and a creditable showing was made by the Eagle eleven.

Two White Men Held For Investigation

Two white men were arrested by Patrolman Allen York late Friday night near the Macaula filling station at the corner of West Second avenue and North Fifteenth street when they attempted to send their car out the driveway as the officer approached.

The officers reported that locks had been broken off two gasoline pumps. The men are being held before the city jail while officers continue their investigations.

Card of Thanks.

We wish to take this method of thanking our many friends for their expressions of love and sympathy in our hour of bereavement. Especially do our hearts go out to the good ladies of the Eleventh Avenue Methodist church, who prepared and served dinner, and to Bro. J. F. Adams and his good wife, who were ever at our side. May God's richest blessings fall on each of you.

Trinity river was reported overflowing extensively in East Navarro county Monday. The waters took a decided rise Friday and Saturday, and the livestock and some cattle were not driven out, and some apprehension is felt for the safety of the livestock, especially the cattle.

The rise was occasioned by the heavy rains over the northern watershed of the river Sunday, March 5.

EYE-WITNESS STORY OF EARTHQUAKE THAT ROCKED LOS ANGELES

LONG BEACH, Calif., March 11.—(AP)—Story of how I dodged falling brick and ran for my life was told today by C. A. Williams, janitor of the Ideal Laundry, 400 North Broadway, in the section of Long Beach hardest hit by the earthquake.

"I was in the boiler room," said Williams, "when I struck. A big pile of laundry bags rushed at me as I dashed for the exit. They probably helped me get out. Then I dodged falling brick as I went to the street."

Mrs. Nell Ellers, bookkeeper for the laundry, was killed when she ran from the office of the building. She was crushed under an avalanche of brick. Had she stayed in her office, she would have lived, for the office was the only room in the building which remained intact.

Williams said that the quake struck in half a minute. A quake would have caught 20 women at work.

"Only the fact that the banking holiday had slowed business almost to a standstill," he stated.
